

Mazda 626 IV (GE) Model year 1991 - 1998 With factory-fitted air conditioning system

Air conditioning switch but no air conditioning system

Since there is often confusion here, it must be stated that vehicles without an air conditioning system can have the same switch. The "air conditioning" symbol is covered by an adhesive sticker, however. This can become loose over time, of course, and lead to the assumption that the vehicle is, or should be, fitted with an air conditioning system.
